SHIPPING INSTRUCTIONS MARCH 31 1950

We have shipped every way possible that we know of trying to get your plants through to you in a livable condition. Insured parcel post doesn't mean anything as the Post Office will not pay any claims on frozen or damaged plants in transit. Special Delivery is not what it use to be when your package had to be signed for at your door, so we are making the guarantee that all magazine require if you advertize in them. "Any merchandise that you order through the mail and are not satisfied with can be returned within 5 days of receipt and your money has to be refunded. So we are making this guarantee and absolutely will not be responsible unless you return your order within 5 days upon receipt. Remember plants are perishable and there are certain conditions in transit that are beyond our control. We would like to get every package through in the same shape it leaves here but sometimes through no fault of ours we can not do this and we do not like to be blamed for some one else's neglect. We nor any one else make a guarantee that every plant will live so please be fair with us as we wish to be fair with you. Many of you people do not have direct mail service, some of you receiving it by truck. You people and people living in extremely cold climates should not expect to get plants through in cold weather. Please take your mail delivery into consideration when ordering. We will not ship next year in extremely cold weather, so try and get your orders in before next winter.
